Lunar New Year Puja

The Pujas will be dedicated to eliminating negative forces, bad energy, ill omens and obstacles for the coming year and for the well-being, happiness and success. We invite all members and friends of Mahayana Buddhist Association and their friends and families to join together to offer Lunar New Year Puja on 25-26 January, 2020. The pujas and prayers will be performed by Rinpoches, Geshes and Sangha in Kopan Monastery.

Palden Lhamo Protector Puja and Guru Puja on 25 January 2020.

In the early dawn of the New Year Day at around 4:30am, the Lamas, Geshes and Sangha from Kopan Monastery will offer a sacrificial cake (Tse-tor) in the main temple to the supreme hierarchy of Dharma Protectors, the glorious goddess Palden Lhamo. Led by the abbot, lamas, geshe, monks, nuns and lay devotees join the ceremony and offer their contemplative prayers to Palden Lhamo and other Dharma Protectors for the peace and happiness in the coming year.

Guru Puja with Extensive Tsog Offeiring

At 8am, the main puja of the New Year begins and that goes on until mid-day. The main program is the extensive Guru Puja conjoined with long life prayers and actual celebration of the New Year and concluded with the extensive dedication prayers.

Incense, Tea Offering Puja and hoisting of Prayer Flags on 27 January 2020

At 8am, on top of the Kopan Hill, the incense and tea offering puja will be performed and many kinds of five-color prayer flags (Prayer flags -- Lungta are five-color cloth with lots of powerful sutras, mantras and auspicious prayers printed on it) will be hung around the holy stupas and on trees. These help to remove bad luck and increase good luck and bring protection for the coming year.
